Washington, DC

May 15, 2022

Walking in Our Forbears' Footsteps

The morning of April 5th was beautiful and bright as some 50 parishioners and guests gathered at Holy Rood Cemetery to begin "In Our Forbears' Footsteps: A Pilgrimage to Remember our Forgotten Black Parishioners." This half-day Ignatian Year event brought our pilgrims from Holy Rood Cemetery to Holy Trinity Church, with stops in the neighborhood. The pilgrimage focused on our Black parishioners who once made up at least 1/3 of the parish. Some were enslaved, some were free, and in 1923, more than 350 of them left to form Epiphany parish because of ongoing segregation they faced here. Trinity parishioners were joined by Dorothy and Linda Gray, two descendants of parishioners who left for Epiphany. Both are still Epiphany parishioners, where Linda serves on the parish council.

At Holy Rood Cemetery, Mary Finkbone invoked the blessing of Lucy and Liddy Butler, two free Black women who were godmothers to 65 Black children baptized at Holy Trinity. She asked them to be our godmothers for the day. Pilgrims learned about the Butlers and other families, and about the history of the cemetery. After praying Psalm 13, a psalm of lament ("How long, O Lord?"), pilgrims wandered through the cemetery to seek out gravestones of our parishioners. When the group arrived at Visitation School, Bernie Cook spoke about Catholic efforts to educate Black children, including Anne Marie Becraft's school for Black girls. Walking to Trinity along 36th Street, Peter Albert pointed out houses where Black parishioners used to live, including one where the exodus to Epiphany was planned (because they were prohibited from meeting about this on parish property).

Once the pilgrims had arrived at Holy Trinity Church, Paul Maco told the story of Priscilla Queen, an enslaved Black woman who filed an unsuccessful lawsuit to win her freedom from Trinity's first pastor, Fr. Francis Neale, SJ. Peter Albert explained the history of segregation at Trinity, when Black parishioners had to sit in a separate portion of the balcony, screened off from the choir. Bernie Cook told the story of a young parishioner, heartbroken to be prohibited from participating in the May procession because of her race.

Catherine Heinhold concluded the pilgrimage with prayerful guided contemplation in the Ignatian tradition. Pilgrims were invited to sit in the balcony or down below and imagine the experience of having to sit in a segregated balcony during Mass and wait to receive communion until after White parishioners had received. In conversation with God, they looked for God's invitations to act on their experience of the day. In the discussion that followed the prayer, Linda Gray reflected that the most important part of the day for her was the acknowledgement by today's Trinity parishioners of the segregation and discrimination practiced by the parish in the past.

Feedback from the day has been very positive, and parishioners have expressed interest in learning more and visiting Epiphany Church. We hope to repeat the experience with added stops in the fall. The Pilgrimage planning team included Tania Chomiak-Salvi and Kate Devlin in addition to Bernie, Catherine, Mary, Paul, and Peter.✝

FROM THE PASTOR’S DESK

Fr. Kevin Gillespie, SJ

When you walk into our parish’s McKenna Hall for a meeting or after a Sunday mass, you may notice the quotations inscribed on the walls. On such occasions you may wonder, “Who was Fr. Horace McKenna who once spoke these words, and why did the parish name the hall after him?” This past Wednesday, in St. Ignatius Chapel, we commemorated the 40th anniversary of the death of this amazing Jesus with a Mass and a sharing of some “Horace stories.” There are many of them!

One popular story is what happened at Horace’s Baptism. You see, when his parents, Laura and Charles McKenna on a freezing New York City day on January 2, 1899, brought their sixth child to be baptized at Holy Name Parish, they informed the officiating priest that they wanted their son to be called Horace. Responding to their request the priest exclaimed, “But there is no Saint Horace,” to which his father replied, “But Father, there will be.”

At the time of his death Horace served as my confessor when I was a Jesuit scholastic teaching religion at Gonzaga High School. During the summer of 1981, I worked with Horace at the St. Vincent DePaul Center attached to Gonzaga. I did not do much - I simply distributed the sandwiches and Gatorade at lunchtime to the several dozen homeless men. Horace, however, did quite a lot for the homeless men as well as serve as a witness of Christ’s compassionate presence for all of us who served the poor with him.

Horace entered the Society of Jesus on July 30, 1916, shortly after graduating from Fordham Prepitory School. Following his novitiate and early scholastic studies, he was sent in 1921 to the Philippines where he was first moved by the desperate plight of the Filipino poor. A few years later, when he was ordained on June 23, 1929, he asked to be sent to the poor parishes of Southern Maryland. There, he not only encountered poverty, but also racial segregation and injustices. Under the mentorship of the noted Jesuit, Father John Lafarge, Horace’s heart was thereby stirred toward actions of linking faith and justice. Horace labored for 22 years in the various parishes of Southern Maryland. His subsequent pastoral ministries took him north to St. Aloysius Gonzaga parish from 1953 to 1958, and then from 1958 to 1964 he worked as the associate pastor of the Gesu in North Philadelphia. Horace returned to St. Al’s in 1964, and it was there that he gained greater prominence on behalf of the racial and social justice cause.

Today, 40 years after his death, the legacy of Fr. Horace McKenna lives on, not only through the lives of the people for whom and with whom he served so compassionately, but also in the organizations he helped found, such as So Others Might Eat (SOME); Martha’s Table, a soup kitchen and child education center; and the House of Ruth, a center for homeless women. Last but not least his presence is still felt in the vibrant service center for the poor that bears his name, The Father Horace McKenna Center.

Those who want to learn more about the possibility of becoming Catholic are welcome to come to the Inquiry meetings held every Tuesday evening at 7pm in the Faber Room, Holy Trinity Parish Center. Please contact Anne Koester at akoester@trinity.org or (202) 903-2825. ## LGBTQIA+ MINISTRY

Holy Trinity's commitment to accompany one another in Christ invites us to be more deeply aware of the diversity of our community and more welcoming to those who are marginalized by society or the Church. Our lay-led ministry embraces individuals who are lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, questioning/queer, intersex, asexual and their families and friends. More information and upcoming meetings can be found at www.trinity.org/lgbtqia or by emailing LGBTQIA@trinity.org.

PARISH PASTORAL COUNCIL (PPC)

PPC members share leadership responsibility with our pastor. As advisors to the pastor, PPC members assist the pastor in discerning, articulating and communicating to other parishioners the identity and mission of the parish, and they assist the pastor in assuring fidelity to that identity and mission. The collection will run from May 8-May 29. Requested items for the newborn kits include: diaper pins, newborn cloth diapers, bars of soap, diaper covers, three-month to newborn size t-shirt (snap), and swaddling blankets. The committee is also accepting donations to purchase items. It costs approximately $15 for a newborn kit and $25 for a clean delivery kit. Checks should be payable to Holy Trinity Catholic Church with Haiti Relief in the memo.

This summer high school youth from Holy Trinity Parish will spend the week of June 27-July 2 serving our neighbors in Baltimore. We are still in need of two more adult leaders to accompany our teens on this week of service. Consider whether God might be calling you to serve as a volunteer for this service experience in order that teens might have the opportunity to experience the love of God through loving outreach to our neighbors. All adult volunteers must complete background check paperwork and attend training in order to serve as leaders. If you are interested or would like more information, please contact Anne Marie Kaufmann, akaufmann@trinity.org.

Baltimore Community Engagement for High School Youth

All current high school students are invited to serve our neighbors this summer, June 27-July 2, in Baltimore. Teens and adult leaders will spend the time serving meals, learning about causes of homelessness and poverty, and reflecting on their experience through prayer & conversation. For more information, contact Anne Marie Kaufmann, akaufmann@trinity.org.

Catechists Needed for the 2022-2023 Faith Formation Year

The Faith Formation program is in need of catechists to nurture the faith of the children and youth of our parish families. Catechists teach in teams of two, and classes meet on Sunday mornings from 10:15am-11:15am from September to May. Serving as a catechist not only provides a needed service to Holy Trinity, it also helps you to grow in your own faith. If you are interested in being a catechist or would like more information, please contact Sandy Nguyen, rek8@trinity.org or 202-903-2815.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Self-Nominations for Parish Pastoral Council Due May 27

Have you ever wanted to be more engaged in providing guidance to our clergy and staff on the future direction of Holy Trinity Church? Are you someone who wants to put energy, creativity, and passion for our beloved parish to work? Then the Parish Pastoral Council (PPC) might be the right place for you.

The PPC is now accepting self-nominations for election into the 12-member group. This is not a "Board of Advisors," but rather a group of dedicated individuals with strong leadership skills willing to "co-labor" with our Pastor, Fr. Kevin Gillespie, SJ in making strategic decisions about the direction of the parish. Some of the qualities of an effective PPC member include:

- Active parishioner involved in the life of the parish for at least two years;
- Participates in some parish ministry (committee) for at least one year;
- Capable of thinking broadly and strategically and without uncontrolled bias, and has a mind and heart open to the "magis," that is, what is for the greater good; and
- Willing to serve as a PPC member for at least three years.

If you are an engaged parishioner over the age of 16 with skills or interests associated with administration, communications, community life, faith formation, social justice, or worship, consider joining other engaged parishioners on the PPC.

Candidates considering running for election are invited to attend the next PPC Zoom meeting on Wednesday, May 18, 7:00 to 8:30pm to learn more about the Council and its current membership.

Interested candidates should email ppcelections@trinity.org. Voting will open May 29 and close on June 12. The new council members will be announced during the week of June 13.

Easter Appeal

Our ministries of social justice and inclusion are some of the most powerful ways we as a parish speak of the Risen Christ's presence in our communities and in our world.

Our parish is a beacon, a source of advocacy and an example of hope. We are witnessing with and on behalf of women, members of the LGBTQ+ communities, migrants fleeing war and oppression, Black lives matter, and all people on the margins as we direct our time and resources to alleviate suffering, promote inclusion, and create justice. Your contributions to our Easter Fund are used 100% in support of these and all our parish ministries. Thank you for your generosity. You can contribute by clicking the "Donate" button in the banner at the top of our website at trinity.org. Thank you!
