All the Little Children

by Lisa Dittmier, Executive Assistant to the Pastor

I believe it was my love of children that brought me to participate in the Holy Trinity Social Justice visit to the El Paso border. Together with my colleagues, I spent five days visiting the Texas city and Ciudad Juárez, México, just over the Rio Grande River. Having spent my entire life living in east coast cities, the experience was heart-wrenching. The people we met, both those there to assist and those living in poverty, showed me a world far more grim than I could have imagined.

We first met with Father Rafael García, S.J. and Brother Todd Patenaude of the Encuentro Project, who have both dedicated their lives to helping and obtaining funding for both the migrants trying to find a place in the U.S. and those who live in such challenging conditions, probably never imagining what it is that we sometimes take for granted. Padre Rafael acted as our guide as we crossed over into México.

Just driving over the unpaved roads into the Anapra section of Juarez, I noticed the make-shift houses and wandering children. Our first stop was a school for disabled children called Centro Santo Niño. In the middle of a dust covered desert, we found Sister Carol and Sister Andrea in a large colorful room filled with toys, games and books. They serve up to 50 children each day, recruiting local volunteers to transport them to school. Generous funding from private donors, including Holy Trinity, enabled them to improve the building and purchase supplies for the students. I was drawn to Reyna, a girl of 12 with Downs Syndrome, and Beto, an autistic boy a year younger. They were working with a teacher volunteer learning their numbers using magnetic cards. They were both so proud to show me what they knew. In the next room, physical therapists worked with two young children with cerebral palsy to improve their muscle strength. A young mother sat by her son while her toddler played with a toy. She had many times left her abusive husband. As like before, she would be returning to him at the end of the day, with nowhere else to go.

We next visited Libro Para La Vita, funded entirely by two families from Kansas City and St. Louis. Estele and Bertha are the co-founders of the library and provide books to the community. Bertha told us her story which left us all in such amazement of her bravery and love for her children. Living in an abusive household, Bertha packed up all her belongings and five children 30 years ago and left her husband to find a place she could call home. Moving into a 4 x 4-meter house made of wooden pallets, she lived without plumbing, water or electricity. Anapra had no roads and no school and Bertha taught her kids to look for firewood and cook what they found. Each morning, her children would cry to go back “home”. She told them that this was now their own home and encouraged them to work together. One year later, her home burned to the ground. With the help of a local

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Upon entering our church have you ever noticed the way the sunlight catches the colors of the front windows and flows down the center of the aisle? This may be best seen during the late afternoon Saturday or Sunday masses when the western setting sunlight streams up the aisle. I began to notice this phenomenon when presiding at afternoon weddings. From my position at the altar and beside the groom I noticed that when the church's front doors open, it seems as though the bride processes up the aisle like an angel walking on a cloud of light. The glowing radiance of the faces of the bride and the groom are striking.

I like to think that the ways in which the sunlight brightens up our church was done by design and done by no less an authority than the father of astrophysics, Fr. Angelo Secchi. You see in the late 1840s when our main church was designed and built (opening in 1851), Fr. Secchi was a member of the Georgetown College community. While at Georgetown, among Fr. Secchi's many scientific endeavors, he worked at the College's Astronomical Observatory. It is not hard to imagine that Father O'Flanagan, the parish's pastor at the time, consulted his fellow Jesuit about the light design for the church. After several years at the Georgetown Observatory, Secchi began traveling the world as part of his pioneer research about the sun. Among his scientific endeavors was observing and then describing how the sun's corona appeared during a solar eclipse.

I was reminded of Secchi's astrophysical discoveries and his probable influence on our church's light designs, when I, along with several parishioners, attended an event recently sponsored by the Vatican Observatory. It took place at the Apostolic Nunciature on Massachusetts Avenue. Besides the presence of Archbishop Christoph Pierre, the Papal Nuncio, we met the director of the Vatican Observatory, Brother Guy Consolmagno. I also met a couple of his Jesuit companions who described to me their astronomical work at the two Vatican observatories. One is at the papal residence in Castel Gandolfo, outside Rome and the other is in southwestern New Mexico. At the event we learned that the Observatory is one of the oldest active astronomical observatories in the world, with its roots going back to 1582 and the Gregorian reform of the calendar. Its mission is for astronomical research and public outreach to advance the scientific understanding of our universe.

The evening also featured Br. Guy interviewing his boss, Sr. Raffaella Petrini who was recently appointed by Pope Francis to serve as the secretary-general of the office governing Vatican City State. As such, she is the highest ranking woman at the Vatican and is referred to as the mayor of The Vatican.

I invite you to check out their website for more information about their important and fascinating research. www.vaticanobservatory.org/about/

And to see their work in action, I encourage you to observe the ways in which the sunlight radiates the colors of our church inspiring our worship of the Son of God!

DAILY MASS INTENTIONS

The parish community prays for all of the dead every day at Mass. However, we encourage parishioners to mention specific persons by name during the General Intercessions when invited to do so by the presider.

Parishioners may also request that a specific person be remembered by name at a particular weekday Mass by calling or visiting the receptionist's desk in the Parish Center during normal office hours.

Names must be submitted one week in advance. Persons to be so remembered at weekday Masses this week are:

Week of October 24, 2022

Sacrament of the Sick

Communal anointing is celebrated seasonally in the Chapel of St. Ignatius. Call the parish to request the sacrament at home or in the hospital.

RITE OF CHRISTIAN INITIATION

The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA) is a process of conversion and faith formation for individuals who are interested in living the Christian life in the Catholic tradition. Those who want to learn more about the possibility of becoming Catholic are welcome to come to the Inquiry meetings held every Tuesday evening at 7pm in the Faber Room, Holy Trinity Parish Center. Please contact Anne Koester at akoester@trinity.org or (202) 903-2825. Holy Trinity also offers RCIA adapted for children and youth who are not Baptized (ages 7 through high school). Please contact Anne Marie Kaufmann at akaufmann@trinity.org (202) 903-2832 for more information.

LGBTQIA+ MINISTRY

Holy Trinity's commitment to accompany one another in Christ invites us to be more deeply aware of the diversity of our community and more welcoming to those who are marginalized by society or the Church. Our lay-led ministry embraces individuals who are lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, questioning/queer, intersex, asexual and their families and friends. More information and upcoming meetings can be found at www.trinity.org/lgbtqia or by emailing LGBTQIA@trinity.org.

PARISH PASTORAL COUNCIL (PPC)

PPC members share leadership responsibility with our pastor. As advisors to the pastor, PPC members assist the pastor in discerning, articulating and communicating to other parishioners the identity and mission of the parish, and they assist the pastor in assuring fidelity to that identity and mission. Contact President Tania Chomiak-Salvi at ppcpresident@trinity.org and Vice President Jennifer Dorsey at parishcouncil@trinity.org.

PRAY

Case Men's Glee Club Concert

October 24, 7:30pm.

Make plans to attend this free concert featuring the Case Men's Glee Club. Founded in 1897, the Case Men's Glee Club is Case Western Reserve's premier lower voice ensemble. They are a gender-inclusive group that focuses on singing barbershop-style harmony and traditional men's glee music. This year, their fall concert will include selections from the British Isles, such as Loch Lomond and Mairi's Wedding. Holy Trinity welcomes this choir from Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio.

The 8th Annual Costan Lecture in Early Christianity at Georgetown University

"Pathways to Holiness: Early Christianity and Ethics" - James Keenan, SJ from Boston College

October 26, at 5:00 p.m. in Dahlgren Chapel (Georgetown University)

For the past forty years moral theology has understood its history to be rooted in the early medieval penitential manuals. This Costan Lecture argues that those manuals were rooted, not simply in a confessional practice, but much more in the context of what today we would call spiritual direction, not focusing on sins but rather pursuing holiness. With that key insight we look to the earlier history of moral theology and find pathways to holiness as a worthy key to understanding Christian expectations. RSVP: <https://costanlecture2022.eventbrite.com>

Afternoon with a Jesuit

October 30, 4pm, Chapel

The Young Adult Community invites all parishioners to an afternoon conversation with Fr. Ben Hawley, SJ. Father Ben will reflect on the collision of his hopes and dreams for a career and happy life as a layman with the way the Real World works, with what the Real World values and counts as "success" - and how the Spirit of God showed up in human experience as unsuspected intuition and invitation to a better way to live. This session will offer time for story telling and sharing concrete ideas on next steps.

Ignatian Christian Life: A New Paradigm

November 12, 9:30 am – 12:00 pm, Chapel

Rossano Zas-Friz S.J.

Drawing on his recent book "Ignatian Christian Life: A New Paradigm", Father Zas Friz will present the contemplative dimension of Christian life from a new Ignatian perspective. Father Zas-Friz is a Jesuit priest and professor of Christian and Ignatian spirituality at the Jesuit School of Theology of Santa Clara University (Berkeley, CA).

Free will offerings the morning of the event are welcome. Contact: Fr. Thomas M. Gavin S.J. at tgavin@jesuits.org

SERVE

Catechists for Baptism Preparation Classes

We are seeking to form a team of catechists to teach baptism preparation classes. These meet monthly and alternate between Monday evening and Saturday morning. Formation and training will be provided. For more information or to volunteer, please contact Anne Marie Kaufmann, akaufmann@trinity.org, 202-803-2832.

High School Youth Ministry - Volunteer Leaders Needed

Our high school youth ministry program is in need of adult volunteers to help with our Sunday morning youth meetings and to help plan and implement other activities to help engage high school youth in the life of Holy Trinity Parish. If you are interested or would like more information, please contact Anne Marie Kaufmann, akaufmann@trinity.org.

Sponsor Families for RCIAafc

The Rite of Christian Initiation adapted for children provides children and their families a way to learn more about the Catholic faith as they consider full initiation through the sacraments of baptism, confirmation, and Eucharist. This happens best when members of our parish accompany them on this journey. We currently need families who would be willing to walk alongside those participating in RCIAafc helping them to see what it looks like to live our Catholic faith as a family. If you are interested or would like more information, please contact Anne Marie Kaufmann, akaufmann@trinity.org.

So Others Might Eat October

Breakfast Casseroles & SOCKTOBER

Holy Trinity has partnered with SOME for more than 50 years! We will continue to collect snack bags each month, and beginning in October we will expand our support to their breakfast service. We will also add items each month that are needed for women and men experiencing homelessness. The new fall flyer on our website outlines the dates, breakfast kit components, and more. Please continue to sign up so our volunteers know what to expect! Please note collection dates are moving to Sundays, and we will continue to take donations in advance at the Parish Center. Sign up on our website or email aklick@trinity.org.

Poetry, Justice & Spirituality

October 27, 7pm, Registration required

We continue our Poetry, Justice & Spirituality gathering with Mary Lou Rife, a member of the Migrant Team, leading us in discussion on "Poetry of Immigration," featuring the works of poets who have migrated from different countries, including Richard Blanco, Julia Alvarez, Naomi Shihab Nye, Warsan Shire, and others who write of their experience in crossing borders. For more information, email aklick@trinity.org

Join our HT Team in the Annual Turkey Trot

Make Thanksgiving an action word this year, and be part of a time-honored DC tradition by participating in America's Trot for Hunger. As the largest and only DC-based Trot, we are excited for our community to join us this holiday season for a family-friendly race event with live entertainment, refreshments, and fun for all. As a part of our team, you + your family & friends are invited to join the Trot with a 50% discount! Use code TRINITY50 to register today! ## All the Little Children continued from page 1 priest, the house was rebuilt and supplied with furniture and electricity for appliances. Bertha's children are all now grown and successful thanks to scholarships received from donors.

Although I cannot write about all our experiences, I cannot forget Sister Betty Campbell. Now 88 years old, she lives alone and for 26 years has provided support for those in Juarez who suffer from domestic violence, the influence of cartels, and political prosecution. She tells stories of children as young as 11 years old, who are coerced by the cartels to sell drugs. Many try to say no and some are shot. Others cannot get out once they start. Their families are victimized and the children never get the chance to live a peaceful life. Sister Betty has an outside memorial with the names of thousands of children, women, adults and journalists who have died or gone missing in the city.

We learned much about migrants seeking asylum and we were able to cook my husband's chili recipe for 50 people at Casa Vides, a migrant shelter. We met Baby Brian, born in captivity by coyotes (human smugglers) as his mother was trying to cross the border. I believe my favorite time was spent with Rose Anyeli, a four-year-old Haitian refugee waiting with her family to join relatives in Florida. Rose and I sang songs, learned numbers in English, and sampled different flavored lollipops. Rose and Brian are fortunate. While they have been forced to flee their homelands, they have been welcomed into a community that offers hope despite the continued challenges their families face in seeking asylum.

I pray that Rose and Brian will be granted asylum and I carry prayers and hope for all of those suffering due to violence, greed and poverty. ✠

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Stewardship

Our 2023 Pledge season is almost here! In preparation, several parish households are offering short testimonials about why they offer financial support for our mission and ministries. We hope their stories will inspire you to reflect upon Holy Trinity's importance in your life and in our community. Thank you in advance for making your 2023 Pledge in support of that importance.

From Stephen P. Aubin:

Many years ago, during one of the fund-raising efforts at Holy Trinity, families could make a contribution memorialized by a brick on the grounds of the church. Our inscription simply read, "Holy Trinity, Our Spiritual Home, The Aubin Family."

I first discovered Holy Trinity while a student at Georgetown University. This parish became my regular place of worship after graduation. The Jesuit spirituality, with its foundations in individual transformation and action aimed at doing Christ's work wherever we are, has informed my own faith and spirituality for more than 40 years now. The liturgies have always been lively, spiritually fulfilling, and thought-provoking. I met my wife, Cheryl, through this parish, was married at Holy Trinity, and we had our son, Charles, baptized here. We watched him grow his spirituality over the years at this parish, become an altar server, and, ultimately, attend Saint Joseph's University, where he continued his Jesuit formation. Though on his own now, he often joins his mother and me for Sunday mass at Holy Trinity.

We marvel at the many ways the parish strives to be Christ to others. And we are blessed to be part of it and to be able to participate in our own small ways by contributing our time, talents, and resources. It is indeed our spiritual home.
