Recently, as pastor of Holy Trinity Parish, I attended a lunch sponsored by the White Historical Association for pastors of those area churches where present and past presidents of the United States have worshipped. As is well known, Holy Trinity Church has been the faith community where President John F. Kennedy was a parishioner and where President Biden frequently worships.

Besides serving as an opportunity to meet other pastors, the luncheon also provided an opportunity to meet and listen to noted historian, Jon Meacham. As we sat and ate around a huge circular table, adjacent to a huge painting of George Washington, Meacham shared insights about Abraham Lincoln's faith found in his new and bestselling biography of the former president, titled, And There Was Light: Abraham Lincoln and the American Struggle.

The luncheon was a delightful and informative occasion after which the author provided autographed copies of his book to each of us. With close to 500 pages of text, more than 150 pages of Source Notes and a 57-page Bibliography, Meacham has made a significant contribution to the extensive literature about our 16th president. The author related that one of the purposes for his biography of Lincoln, the most written about American president in history, was to learn from Lincoln how to respond wisely to a nation then and now sharply polarized by its own politics.

Meacham told of how his research led him to write about Lincoln's faith and he concluded that some of Lincoln's speeches could be characterized as sermons more than speeches. Anyone who memorized and recited the Gettysburg Address would readily agree. The same could be said for parts of the Second Inaugural Address including the noteworthy paragraph:

Fondly do we hope—fervently do we pray—that this mighty scourge of war may speedily pass away. Yet, if God wills that it continue until all the wealth piled by the bondsman's two hundred and fifty years of unrequited toil shall be sunk, and until every drop of blood drawn by the lash shall be paid by another drawn with the sword, as was said three thousand years ago, so still it must be said, "The judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether."

This style of sermonizing may also be seen when in 1863 President and "Preacher" Lincoln proclaimed the national holiday of Thanksgiving with the words presented on the front cover of this bulletin.

And so, with Pastor Lincoln's "Thanksgiving Sermon" in mind, may you and your loved ones have a most Happy Thanksgiving.

We are an inclusive and vibrant Jesuit Catholic community located in the heart of historic Georgetown in Washington, D.C. Join now and find your faith home at Holy Trinity!

Mary's Magnificat and Hannah's Song

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 11 – 10:15 AM, Trinity Hall

A special faith formation event sponsored by the Women Who Stay to celebrate the Women Who Sing! Hannah, the mother of Samuel, and Mary of Nazareth, the mother of Jesus, are two prophetic voices of Advent that are muted in our Catholic Sunday Lectionary. Many of us know Mary's Magnificat in the first chapter of Luke, but did you know that the entire song she sang while visiting her cousin Elizabeth is never read as the Gospel on any Sunday during any liturgical cycle? And the prophetic song of Hannah that Mary echoes is also never heard in any Sunday Mass either? We'll explore these voices absent from the Lectionary.

Feast of Guadalupe with the Migrant Familia

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 10 – 3:00 PM, Chapel

Join the Holy Trinity Migrant Familia for the annual Feast of Guadalupe prayer service and fiesta. Fr. Gillespie will lead the special Mass in the Chapel and the celebration will continue in Trinity Hall. All are welcome!

McKenna Center, Georgetown Ministry Center, Hope and a Home, Mary House, Northwest Center, Spanish Catholic Center, St. Ann's Center and St. Jean Baptiste (Sister Parish). All gifts should be returned to the church by December 11.
