Twenty-Ninth Sunday in Ordinary Time

An Update From The Parish Pastoral Council

by Jennifer Dorsey
President, Parish Pastoral Council

The Parish Pastoral Council (PPC) is back together for another year. As part of our commitment to be transparent with our faith community, I want to share a preview of the Council's efforts as the year begins.

As the Synod on Synodality continues its initial weeks in Rome, we as a council are taking the time to continue reflecting on everything shared during the parish Synod process nearly 18 months ago. That feedback has been instrumental in guiding growth throughout the parish.

One direct result of that feedback is the institution of two new youth representatives on the council. Kana Wash and Julien Pimboeuf - two of Trinity's high school youth ministry members - are our first representatives. They will serve for one year as non-voting members of the council but will be present for most of what full council members do.

I hope you will join me in thanking Kana and Julien for stepping up to the call to serve on our council, especially as the inaugural individuals. We are grateful to have their voices and perspectives as a part of our regular discussion and I hope they will be able to share their own insights on the experience in the months to come.

Another aspect of the council's work is our involvement in the parish's standing committees, which fall under the purview of the PPC. In addition to attending the full committee meeting each month, PPC members are also assigned to one of the 10 committees to act as the Council's representative as well as a full member of the committee. The below assignments are also available on the council's page: trinity.org/parish-pastoral-council.

- Worship Committee: Judith Bunnell
- Parish Life Committee: Rolando Diaz
- Social Justice Committee: Kate Gerry
- Education Committee: Kerry White
- Communications Committee: John Dolan
- HTS School Board: Malcolm McClusky
- Facilities Committee: John Brain
- Ignatian Spirituality and Jesuit Identity: Jim Hennessey
- Stewardship and Development: Tania Chomiak-Salvi
- Finance Committee: Rob Johansson

An overarching theme of the PPC's current work is the desire to find the cross sections of thematic efforts across the parish. No work at Holy Trinity occurs in a vacuum and all of it is guided in prayer and a love for our faith community. As a result, each member will continue to look for opportunities to work across committees and ministries as well as throughout the parish.

We also hope to increase the faith formation of our council. Last year the PPC was led in a guided examen to help us reflect on the first half of our year. We found it immensely helpful in both grounding us and reminding us that our council is more than just a business meeting: it is, first and foremost, a faith community brought together to serve.

We will continue to update the Council's webpage and hope to add the minutes from the previous month's meetings, updates on the PPC's activities, and other relevant information throughout the year.

As always, we invite you to join our meetings on the 3rd Wednesday of each month at 7pm. Join in person in McKenna Hall or virtually on Zoom. The link is available on the PPC page.

Please don't hesitate to reach out to me at ppcpresident@trinity.org and Gail Louis, Vice President, at parishcouncil@trinity.org. We value your feedback, thoughts, questions, and concerns.

And please keep us in your prayers. ✝

PRAYER FOR PEACE IN THE MIDDLE EAST

God of mercy and compassion,
of grace and reconciliation,
pour your power upon all your children in the Middle East:
Jews, Muslims and Christians,
Palestinians and Israelis.
Let hatred be turned into love, fear to trust,
despair to hope,
oppression to freedom, occupation
to liberation,
that violent encounters may be replaced
by loving embraces,
and peace and justice could be experienced by all.

Amen.

HOLY TRINITY SCHOOL'S ANNUAL FUND

A note from Angie Brackshaw, a mother of three Holy Trinity School graduates:

I have spent most of my years as a parent trying to determine if I'm doing a good job. As a parent am I underperforming, meeting or exceeding expectations? As you all know, such a grading system does not exist. I consider parenting the hardest job of my life, with no chance for advancement, and compensation that is not commensurate with the task load.. My children are older now, none of them are perfect (which I once thought attainable), but they are strong, competent, smart, faithful young adults.

I would like to think I am responsible for who they are today, but truthfully, my role as a parent was mostly decision making. The choices we all make for our children bear heavy weight. We were parents of Holy Trinity School students for 14 years. Herein lies the first, best decision we made on their behalf. We always considered tuition an investment in our children, but at HTS it's so much more.

When Annual Fund season came around we were passionate about contributing because we could see first hand how hard the teachers and administration were working to deliver academic excellence and help my children build a foundation of faith, both of which I attribute to who they have become as young adults.

My three children learn differently, but I loved seeing each progress through HTS achieving their full potential. I can confirm HTS delivers on their mission to provide academic excellence because all three left HTS with the proper skill set and were well prepared for high school. The four years which follow HTS move quickly. Before you know it, they are young adults, capable of thriving without us and perfectly prepared to maximize their college experience. All of which began at HTS.

Please consider participating in the Annual Fund. With Holy Trinity School in my rear view, I can confirm it is an investment in your children that transcends the walls of the school and the years you and your children are immersed in HTS.

Please reach out to development@htsdc.org with any questions.
